EQUIPMENT OFFERS

As one of Active's trainees, you have access to some amazing pro deals, saving you hundreds on getting together the right kit.

While we do provide gear for all our training programmes, we strongly recommend you build up your own for future endeavours. Most students will invest between £500 to £1,000 in essential kit, but each person has different requirements. As such, we will provide you with a list of the personal equipment you require. As well as providing recommendations, prices and options for you to consider.

With this in mind, we advise that you order the kit with us in advance of your start date, so you have all your nice new specialist equipment ready for starting your new adventures!

Your fastest route to a career outdoors!

COLORADO TRIP

In December, we will jet to the other side of the pond for two weeks of ski and snowboard training.

From our base in Breckenridge Colorado, deep in the Rocky Mountains, staying in the Grand Timber Lodge, this is an ideal setting for snowsports with its high altitude and wide expanse of runs.

During your stay, we will work through the PSIA Performance Awards and PSIA Level 1 Instructor Award to help you establish good technique and on-piste awareness as well as personal development and self discovery. With half day lessons, you will have ample time to independently explore the mountains.

Education through adventure.

SPAIN TRIP

active outdoor pursuits

Join us on another epic trip to Costa Blanca Spain, this time to climb some big rocks for another two weeks. Our base in Spain is in the town of Pedreguer. Our villa is nestled in the hills of the Costa Blanca just an hour north of Alicante, you will enjoy easy access to many coastal and mountain crags.

This trip is designed to cement the essential skills learned In the course while simultaneously building up your log books in time for the RCI training or assessment module.

Answer the call to adventure.

THE LOCATION

From our base in the Cairngorms National Park, you will enjoy access to some of Scotland's finest peaks, lochs and rivers right on our doorstep. Without a doubt the ideal setting for learning to be a professional outdoor instructor, our lodge is located in Newtonmore, just 12 miles from Aviemore in the very heart of Scotland.

Our centre accommodates up to 32 candidates per course with shared dormitory style bedrooms within the centre, which also offers a dedicated lounge, kitchen, and a large storage space for your equipment.
